1.3 EU funded budget: 1,000,000.00 EUR

2. Objectives

2.1 Overall Objective:

The overall objective of this project is to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the national authorities for border control, management of migration flows, fight against terrorism and organized crime.

2.2 Specific objective:

The specific objective of this project is to improve the technical and administrative capacities to detect, investigate and prevent terrorism.

2.3 The elements targeted in strategic documents i.e. National Development Plan/Cooperation agreement/Association Agreement/Sector reform strategy and related Action Plans

Relevant strategic documents:

Stabilisation and Association Agreement (SAA)

The Project will contribute towards the implementation of the Stabilisation and Association Agreement Article 74 on reinforcement of institutions in the area of law enforcement and Article 78 on fighting and preventing criminal and illegal activities.

This project is directly linked with the priority objectives set out in the National Strategies for CVE and CT 2018-2022, adopted in March 2018 by the Government. EU support for them follows up on the commitments in the Joint Action Plan on CT for the Western Balkans. The National Committee for Countering Violent Extremism and Counter-terrorism(NCCVECT), working closely and in co-ordination with representatives from all Government institutions and ministries with relevant stakes in the actions and activities of countering violent extremism and terrorism, has identified five critical "building partner capacities" priorities, but the process of further strengthening of the institutional capacities of the National Committee for countering violent extremism and counter-terrorism (NCCVECT) remains an area where immediate support by the donor community is needed.
Link with the European Commission (EC) Progress Report

The 2018 Progress Report of the European Commission states that in July 2017, after the post had been vacant for more than a year, the new National Coordinator for Counter-Terrorism and Countering Violent Extremism was appointed. This post was reinforced by creating two deputy posts responsible for countering of violent extremism and for counter-terrorism. The National Committee for Countering Violent Extremism and Counter-Terrorism was also created and is headed by the National Coordinator. The National Committee is in charge of monitoring and analysing the situation related to the prevention of extremism and fight against terrorism. It is responsible for coordinating the activities of relevant institutions. The Office of the National Coordinator and the National Committee are partially operational. It is necessary to ensure full cooperation between law enforcement agencies, intelligence services and relevant key state institutions (education, health, and social services) as well as with local communities and civil society organisations. The legal framework is largely aligned with the EU acquis and international instruments on anti-terrorism. Terrorism-related issues are regulated by the Criminal Code which was amended in 2014 in line with UN Security Council Resolution 2178/2014. The National Counter-Terrorism Strategy (2016-2019) was not implemented. Therefore, the new government, appointed on 31st of May 2017, decided to revise and modify it to prepare a new National Strategy for Countering Violent Extremism and a National Counter-Terrorism Strategy with relevant action plans. These two strategies have been adopted by the Government in March 2018.

3. Description

3.1 Background and justification:

Violent extremism and terrorism represent a growing international threat which significantly motivates the need for an improved and strengthened collective security and institutional cooperation in the strategic planning and implementation of the activities. The Beneficiary Country is addressing emerging and growing challenges by remaining vigilant against ever-adapting criminal and terrorist networks and their affiliates, as well as other threats that create instability.

In 2016, the Government took the decision\(^2\) to upgrade the position of the National Coordinator for counterterrorism turning it into an independent governmental body. In July 2017, in an effort to provide national-level coordination to monitor and analyse the prevention of violent extremism and the fight against terrorism, the Government established a National Committee\(^3\) for Countering Violent Extremism and Counter-terrorism (NCCVECT). The NCCVECT is responsible for coordinating activities across ministries and public institutions, utilizing a “whole-of-government” approach to counter terrorism (CT) and prevent and counter violent extremist (P/CVE) influence throughout the country. The NCCVECT is managed by the National Coordinator and two Deputy National Coordinators, includes a Secretary, while representatives of 22 institutions serve as members/deputy members of the wider National Committee. These members act as inter-ministerial liaisons, managing the implementation of activities outlined in the National Strategy and Action Plan for Countering Terrorism, and the National Strategy and Action Plan for Countering Violent Extremism. The NCCVECT is responsible for coordinating P/CVE and CT projects across participating line ministries and agencies, communicating information within the Government and performing the public outreach activities necessary to build community participation and confidence in P/CVE and CT projects around the country.

It is essential to understand and acknowledge the major differences, similarities and ties between violent extremism and terrorism in order to develop comprehensive national strategies and action plans, which would build capacities and capabilities to counter these negative societal phenomena in an effective and affordable (i.e. "cost-effective") manner.

The consideration of the threats of violent extremism and terrorism, as well as their prerequisites, root causes, drivers and the unique local-municipal, national and regional contexts that are specific to the Beneficiary Country were an important foundation for the development of the two national strategies and action plans on CVE and CT.

Violent extremism and terrorism posing problems and threat to the country, as well as to other countries in the Balkans and the wider international community. Nevertheless, they are simultaneously two parts of a larger, wider and more dangerous "cycle" of threats.

Both threats of Violent Extremism and Terrorism worsen as single threats if not dealt with early, frequently, and continuously. It is even more important to understand that both threats worsen when counter-measures are inadequately applied. The application of wrong tools and solutions to the problem shall aggravate, rather than minimize and mitigate threats. CVE should be seen and approached as a complementary strand of a wider CT approach.

For all these reasons, the NCCVECT and its members worked on the preparation and adoption of the two national strategies which are a result of the collective efforts of all relevant stakeholders to reach a common understanding of the national goals, vision and mission of the country. The NCCVECT members need to identify the competencies, capacities and needs of the ministries and institutions in view of ensuring the safety and protection of the citizens and the sovereignty of the country.

The NCCVECT seeks to codify the common understanding of the strategic environment, which provides a wider context to the CVE and CT missions, identify priorities, challenges, and opportunities to strengthen the contribution of the country overall in the prevention of all future manifestations of all forms of extremism and the supporting factors that lead to terrorism.

In order to do so, the NCCVECT image and capacities must be developed and put into use with the intention to achieve the objectives of the two strategies and aim at successful implementation of activities envisaged in the two action plans. In order to successfully implement the new National Strategies and the respective Action Plans, NCCVECT works to establish a comprehensive strategic communication plan governing inter-ministerial communication system of the NCCVECT regarding P/CVE and CT activities, design of an interactive internal and external communications strategy across participating government institutions as well as increase ability to message their role\function to the BC public.

In addition to the National Committee and the relevant strategies covering the countering violent extremism and counterterrorism topic, the Law on Internal Affairs provisions are of relevance for the second main beneficiary of the proposed projects, namely the Ministry of Interior - the Office for security and counterintelligence service. In accordance to the Law on Internal Affairs\(^4\), the Office for Security and counterintelligence is competent for performing internal affairs related to the security and counter intelligence.

Under the same article of this Law, security and counter intelligence shall refer to:
- counter intelligence activity;
- prevention and protection against terrorism;

- protection against other activities aimed at jeopardising or violent overthrow of the democratic institutions stipulated by the Constitution of the BC, and
- more severe forms of organised crime which comes from or is aimed at the democratic institutions of the system stipulated by the Constitution of the BC and may lead to their jeopardizing or may have an impact on the security of the state.

While the National Committee has the task of co-ordinating the activities and efforts in preventing and countering violent extremism and counterterrorism, the Office for security and counterintelligence within the Ministry of Interior is the countering structure to practically counter the phenomena through all possible and available operational means.

In accordance with the changes of the Penal Code of the Beneficiary Country from September 2014, where a new article is added (322-1) which recruitment, training, agitation, logistic, finance and joining of persons in military conflicts abroad and in foreign paramilitary and terrorist organizations is prohibited and sanctioned, in 2015 and 2016 where realized police actions “Cell”, “Cell 2” and “Cell 3”. Also, in November 2016, with cooperation with other partners, the Office for security and counterintelligence have participated in regional action for preventing terrorist attacks in Albania.

On 09.10.2018 the Government of the Beneficiary country made a Decision for formation of inter-institutional working group that will propose a new model for reformation of the country’s security and intelligence system with a plan for implementation of the proposed model.

The working group has conducted a comparative analysis of the security and intelligence systems of other countries as well as analysis of the models proposed in the frames of the national project for consolidating of the security and intelligence system of the Beneficiary country. The Government has adopted the proposed model on reformation of the security and intelligence system on 20.11.2018. The implementation of the new model envisage separation of the Office for security and counterintelligence from the Ministry of Interior in a autonomous body with jurisdiction of ensuring the internal security of the country and undertaking counterintelligence activities. The proposed law for reformation of the security and intelligence system on the national language of the Beneficiary country can be found on the following link:

ZdVEfOqP0RgfFkQeVwAQQ==

In accordance with the established agenda, the proposed law will be delivered to the Government of the Beneficiary country in the middle of January 2019 and it is expected to be voted by the Parliament by the end of February 2019. It is expected the new model of security and intelligence to be established and operational by June 2019.

3.2 Ongoing reforms:

would not replicate and/or duplicate any activities; also it would ensure the activities would be integrated in the overall EU policy/technical assistance framework.
